

MICROSKIN OPENS NEW YORK CLINIC

Queensland company Microskin has opened its first international 'second skin' clinic in New York in January. Microskin plans another four franchised clinics in the US by the end of the year.

Microskin are the developers of a simulated skin which can be used to alleviate the aesthetic disabilities associated with burns, scarring and a number of disfiguring skin conditions.

The clinic was opened by Linda Lowndes – founder and creator of the Microskin technology – as well as Queensland

Premier Anna Bligh and the Deputy Trade Commissioner to America Stuart Dignam.
