

bizzy bits

nick nichols and shannon willoughby

Surf's in, sushi's out for Cheyne

CHAMPION surfer Cheyne Horan is well known for his exploits on the waves but few would be aware that he owns a sushi restaurant on the Gold Coast – a venture that he is now looking to sell to a new owner.

S Sushi, Cheyne's sushi restaurant in Palm Beach, was set up because of the surfer's commitment to healthy food.

Now, because of commitments in Bali, he's looking to offload it.

"At the moment, I'm really looking more to focus on my surf schools, both in Bali and Australia," said Cheyne.

"At the end of the day, I just had to look at what I was going to be able to do best – surfing won out in the end, of course."

The restaurant is for sale for $150,000.

Cheyne Horan at home